TAXPAYERS REVOLT REVEALS BUREAUCRATIC ABRIDGANCE...

One of the more important developments in the wake of California's Proposition 13, and similar moves across the country, has been the revelation of just how big a thang has developed concerning the rights of taxpayers vs. the "rights" of the Bureaucracy. The battle between the Bureaucracy and the Taxpayers is sure to turn into a Battle of the Century before the dust settles and the side-effects of this will also open on to the City up to Federal Govt. as Taxpayers try to exercise some control over how & where the dollars you and me are to be "redistributed" and where the lines will be drawn over wasteful or unnecessary spending. The power of the purse has been held by Bureaucrats & Politicians for near half a century and the reaction of Taxpayers has finally crystallized when the Tax spenders reached the point of anarchy more than forty (40%) percent of yours (CONT. For farmers who suffered drought damage and resultant financial hardship, the filing deadline is October 11, 1978, which is unchanged from the original date established when the disaster was declared. "Before the deadline occurs we expect considerably more applications to be filed and are therefore moving some of the existing offices and opening new locations as well in an effort to be as accessible as we can to the 230 counties that are (CONT. Immunization Program
For Exported Stock

College Station — Exports of registered livestock from Texas to other parts of the world is one means of helping the balance of payments in the United States.

However, livestock moving into other countries should be immunized against certain diseases, points out Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Extension Service through the county agents is assisting producers in this effort.

Keying is on such immunization programs in the Institute of Tropical Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University. Death losses running as high as 40 to 50 percent among cattle exported to Central and South America countries where Texas tick fever and anaplasmosis are prevalent are being reduced to almost none with a preimmunization developed at the Institute.

Veterinarians of the Institute will go to any location where preimmunization is to be administered, at a cost of $80 per animal.

Trevino said that many years will be required for private enterprises to develop the system and personnel, making it economically wise to pay the $80. He added that this fee is a small investment to prevent potential deaths of breeding stock generally costing $1,000 to $5,000 per head.

He said that cattle to remain in the U.S. should not be preimmunized, because this makes them a carrier of the disease.

If Raico's Suppli-mix could save you 12 to 15% on your feed bills would you listen?

Like thousands of other cattlemen, Waldo Haythorn did:

"I've fed Suppli-mix for two years free choice to 6,000 head of cattle. We've cut our winter protein costs from $45,000 to $20,000. Also, I've been able to increase the cattle per section of pasture by 15%. To test Raico Suppli-mix I split herds, one on it, one not. The Raico herd had calves 40 lbs. heavier at 6 months, and the cows and heifers were much healthier."

- Non-toxic, safe at any reasonable level.
- Not a drug so no FDA restrictions apply. No forms, no withdrawal.

COSTS AS LITTLE AS 3¢ PER DAY OR 90¢ PER MONTH!

Here's how Suppli-mix works:

Unlike conventional feed additives, Raico Suppli-mix has the ability to make essential amino acids more available than they would ordinarily be. In addition, Suppli-mix contains highly soluble cobalt, which is readily converted to vitamin B12 in the rumen. It's a fact that in order for propionic acid (the most efficient of the three volatile fatty acids) to be absorbed and utilized, vitamin B12 must be present. Raico's special form of cobalt insured B12 is always there. The combined results are showing a 12 to 15% increase in feed efficiency on literally thousands of cattle in feed lots and pasturing situations.

TEXAS RED ANGUS NEWS

E. T. Goodman Successful in Selling Red Angus Bulls to Commercial Cowmen

Korens, Texas — E. T. Goodman says "my Red Angus Bulls" progeny are their best salesmen. When a commercial cowman comes to look at bulls, the first thing I show him are some red- of-the-mill commercial cows with big, fat calves straddled by Red Angus bulls on them and he's sold on Red Angus bulls." Selling registered Red Angus bulls to commercial cattlemen at about twice what commercial bulls would bring in a sale ring, and replacement bullifers to other registered Red Angus breeders and junior showmen are the mainstays of E. T. and Eva Goodman's Red Angus operation.

Most of Goodman's bull buyers are repeat customers who were pleased with the results from the first Red Angus bulls they bought from him.

"Many of our bulls are spoken for before they are weaned, and nearly all sell as soon as they are weaned. That way, the bull buyer gets an animal he can afford to put with his commercial cows, and I get the bull sold before having a big load bill tied up in him," Goodman said.

Success of his sales program is attested to by the fact that Goodman is presently "sold out" of both bulls and heifers.

But building a successful sales program wasn't simple.

The Goodman's, both natives of Dallas, are a working partnership in the Red Angus ranching operation. He's retired after 27 years as an office manager for B. F. Goodrich. They bought their 800 acres of land near Korens in 1938 as an investment, and some neighbors told them they needed some cattle to keep the grass grazed, so they bought commercial Herefords. Those neighbors also told them of the added weaning weight and double bonus of two to three cents per pound that could be got with Black Baldy calves by using Angus bulls.

"But we liked the red color, and when we found that Red Angus were available, we bought a registered bull and some heifers from Jim McVee at Edgewood, who we believe to have one of the best Red Angus herds in this area," Goodman said.

Eva Goodman, who professes to being more of a helper than cow person, gave her share of helping land the Red Angus on the Triple E Ranch at Korens.

Since then they've followed a program of building quality into their herd by buying some of the best bulls available, such as a son of Choctaw 873, whose sons have a growth rate 28 percent higher than the other seven bulls on the Red Angus Association of America's computer system. One of their more recent bull purchases in PBC DO 202 BM JO 848, a son of the famous DO 202, purchased from Wick Corners' Wilson Farms at Gallatin, Tenn., after the bull had been judged reserve grand champion of the 1977 Tennessee-Kentucky show and sale.

Most of the Goodman's adult cows are descended from Rebel 806, and they own have a bull calf by RC Larkdale J 121 X out of a son of the famous J 121 X.

Although they are not in the primary business of breeding show calves, some of their heifers purchased by 4-H and FFA youngsters have done well. One placed third in the 1978 Houston Livestock Show, competing in the Black Angus show.

Building the Red Angus brood along with the quality of their own herd claims much of Goodman's time and energy. He is a director of Texas Red Angus Association, who is actively helping promote and publicize Red Angus. Goodman has been on the budget committee and Eva on the Reception and correspondence committees of the association.

Goodman plans to more active participation in shows at all levels and the Red Angus bull test at Navarro College in Corsicana that will be conducted on a bull sale early next year as indications that Red Angus activities are on the increase.

Official dates for the 1978 State Fair are:

This is E. T. Goodman's chief Red Angus bull sire, a son of Wick Corners' Wilson Farms DO 202 that was named a Red Angus National Reference Sire in 1977. This bull was purchased by the Goodman's after he had been named reserve champion of the 1977 Tennessee-Kentucky show and sale.

Ed T. Goodman and his wife Eva are shown with a typical Red Angus cow on his Triple E Ranch near Korens, where he and his wife Eva run a herd of about 80 top Red Angus cows.

THE BIG RED

WORKIN' MAMMA

She's Big. She's Red. And she works 365 days a year. What more can a cowman ask for?

There is really nothing spectacular about a cow cycling regularly, breeding normally, giving birth to a thrifty healthy calf, producing enough milk to raise and wean that calf at a profit and all the while is able to maintain her own condition and repeat the process again and again.

For the Red Angus cow that is not spectacular. She was designed to be "efficient" and she is. This is why she is known as the Big Red Workin' Mamma.

AMERICAN RED BRANGUS ASSOCIATION NEWS

Red Brangus...

Made in U. S. A.

By JOHN SOMNOW

At this time each year we take time out from our every-day chores on July 4th to celebrate the Anniversary of the founding of these United States of America, the greatest country in the history of the world. As we reflect on these 202 years of growth and accomplishment it is mind-boggling to think of all the technological advances and tremendous products made here in the United States for the benefit of people all around the world. And if you're anything like me, all things being equal, you still prefer that "Made in U. S. A." label on the product you buy!

Oh, I admit I've tried a foreign car myself — and I'm sure many of you have tried one of these exotic foreign bulls — but has it really done the job for you? My foreign car hasn't, and from now on mine will be American made again.

Fortunately for me, when it comes to cattle, I didn't have to learn the hard way. I stayed with a true American breed — Red Brangus. Here's why: the Red Brangus breed is not only "Made in U. S. A." it is "Made in Texas, by Texans, for Texans." The birth of the Red Brangus breed took place near Spicewood, Texas, where Mike Levi continues a crossbreeding program begun by his father. The breed was developed by crossing superior cattle of purebred Brahman and Angus and then interbreeding these crosses.

Officially, the breed dates back to 1946. Incidentally, the first Red Brangus cow born that year had weaned her 18th calf by 1964. Almost all breeds boast about the longevity of their cattle, but few can match the average retirement age of Red Brangus.

In addition to longevity and high gainability on pasture, Red Brangus yield a quality of meat second to none. This is documented by the presence of two Certified Meat Sires in the Red Brangus breed almost 10 years before any other American breed achieved a single CMS.

And when it gets hot and dry in Texas in July as it is now, a home-grown breed just naturally does better. It was bred for best tolerance and disease resistance. Now is a great time to see what kind of cattle are the real profit-producers. Almost any old cow does fairly well on lush pastures with moderate temperatures. But only the good, thrifty, adaptable kind of cattle like Red Brangus will come through the drought with flying colors.

Demand real performance, demand Red Brangus... a better American breed!!

Veterinarian Bobby Daggs Likes Red Brangus for More than Usual Reasons

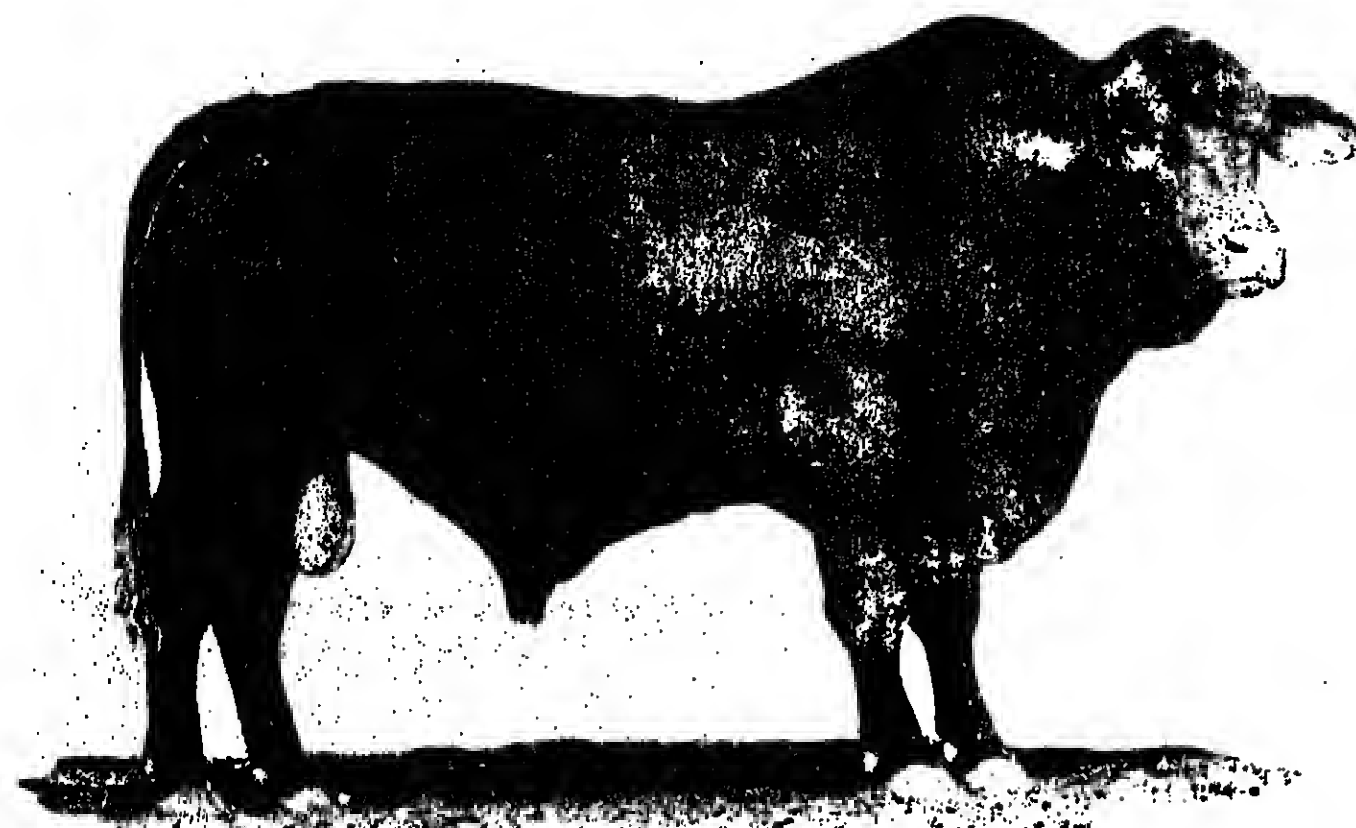

Burleson, Texas — Bobby Daggs, when asked why he chose Red Brangus when he decided to get into the registered cattle business, sounds like he's reading from the publicity manual on the breed: "Because they are more fertile, breed younger and live longer productive lives; because they have relatively small, easy-calving calves naturally right out in the pasture without assistance; are fast growing and heavy at weaning time; are docile and easy to handle and don't tear up fences and handling equipment; have a high tolerance for heat and cold weather extremes, and high resistance to disease and parasites; and produce good, palatable meat — and lots of it."

Daggs may like these traits in Red Brangus for more than the normal reasons of many other cattlemen — he's a practicing veterinarian in Fort Worth. "And I just don't enjoy practicing medicine on my own cattle, or bearing the expense of losing cows and calves at calving, or because the weather got too hot or cold," he said. Daggs was raised on a Central Texas farm where his father had commercial (CONT. ON PAGE 9)

RED BRANGUS...

THE WORD IS GETTING AROUND.

Red Brangus bulls sire heavier weaning calves and highly fertile replacement heifers while giving you ease of calving as an extra bonus.

Bobby and Carol Daggs are shown with their chief Red Brangus herd sire purchased from Oakway Farms near Cameron a couple of years ago when the Daggs started turning from commercial Brahman crosses to Red Brangus.

Bobby Daggs

Brahman cross cattle when Bobby was a child, and Bobby had Brahman cross cattle for about 20 years before starting to go to straight Red Brangus a couple of years ago because he wanted cattle with more uniformity of color and were easier to work with than his commercial Brahman crosses.

Since he is a successful practicing veterinarian, and needed cattle only to utilize the small acreage of Coastal Bermuda on his place near Burleson, and had room for only a small herd on the Central Texas place at Mount Calm, he admits that getting into Red Brangus was more of a hobby than a serious effort at making the cattle make his living for him.

Cajun Delta Field Day for Santa Gertrudis Scheduled

A "Cajun" Delta Santa Gertrudis Field Day will be held at the Rocking-Up Ranch owned by Mmr. and Mrs. Warren Updike in Lafayette on July 22 at 10 o'clock a.m.

Guest Speaker Jim Theek from Mayfair Ranch will discuss the use of Santa Gertrudis bulls on crossbred cattle. Other speakers will be Jko Smart from Louisiana State University who will speak on the outlook of the cattle industry and Professor Terry Clements from University of Southwest Louisiana.

Many of the artists consigning pieces are expected to be in attendance and include such well-known names as Jim Reno, Lajos Merko, Melvin Warren, Robert Summers and Wilson Hurley. The name "Western Heritage Sale" was chosen because all three components — the cattle who provided the first major industry as the West was settled, the horses who were the mainstay of Western life, and the Western art that preserved and chronicled the West from the past to the present — all represent a vital part of the true Western Heritage.

lena who will give his views on ranch management. Lunch will be served. The ranch is located nine miles east of Lafayette airport on Highway 90 turning left on Highway 82 and driving 500 yards.

There's good reason why the Brangus female is America's Number 1 brood cow — she consistently raises calves that make profits for cattlemen!

Experimenting with different breeds and crosses, cattlemen found the 3/8 Brahman — 5/8 Angus combination to be the perfect heritage for a profitable brood cow.

Brangus females are highly fertile and mature early, calving as 2-year-olds with no difficulties, traits inherited from their Angus forebears. They get longevity and easy calving from their Brahman ancestry, and excellent milking ability from both breeds. Together, these traits make the ideal mother cow.

Calves produced by Brangus mothers wean 75 to 100 lbs heavier than other breeds. They are hardy good-doers that gain quickly on feed or forage. But more important, Brangus calves are preferred by stockers, feeders, packers, and consumers alike. They give you the most pounds of high quality meat at the lowest possible cost, and at the same time bring top dollar at the stockyards and in the supermarket.

Hardy! Adaptable! Profitable! BRANGUS!
The cow you've been waiting for.

Solid, practical research proves again: Angus are the world's most efficient cattle.
What a bull Big, powerful, propotent! Research proves he has the genetic authority to produce more profit-making calves from your herd, in shorter time with less labor.
Yes, results of solid research on 2,368 calves born at the U.S. Meat Research Center show: "3-year-old cows bred to Angus bulls had only 3% calving problems, compared to 6% bred to Hereford bulls and 10% to 27% bred to exotic bulls."
And... "Calves from Angus dams were 22 pounds heavier at weaning, and 20 pounds heavier at 400 days, than those from Hereford dams."
Ohio State practical research shows: "8 more calves per 100 cows by crossing with an Angus bull."

SBA Opens Additional Drought Loan Offices For Texas Farmers
eligible for drought disaster loans" said Chaco. "The disaster offices will be located in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Temple, Laredo, Amarillo, Pecos, Marshall, and Abilene. Each office will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. daily, Monday thru Friday.
SBA Disaster Managers are recommending that the farmers come in person to pick up an application and then return it in person. This assures that the application is complete, which in turn expedites processing of the loan. The following information should be submitted with applications for drought loan assistance:
(1) A copy of the legal description of land, i.e., deed, mortgage, real estate contract, etc. (if real estate is to be offered as security).
(2) Copies of tax records. The applicant should keep the originals as file copies.
(3) A copy of the latest ABCS Notice (Form 478) for allotments and yields.
(4) If claiming a loss on pasture, indicate type of pasture (timber, blue grass, good improved, or excellent improved) and the number of months of normal grazing and pasture produced.
(5) If land is rooted crop share, indicate percentage division (i.e., 80/80, 60/40, etc.) and list only your share among the share of the acre.
Chaco explained that there are other items required if the applicant is a partnership or corporation, which is another reason why coming to person to the offices to initiate the loan application is recommended.
The Physical Disaster Loan Program for farmers will include uncovered production costs on 1977 crops at 8% for the first $250,000 and 8 5/8% thereafter. The following counties in and around Dallas, Houston, and San Antonio which are eligible for the drought program are:
Dallas, Rockwall, Hunt, Dooten, Ellis, Navarro, Wood, Wise, Clay, Hood, Erath, Hill, Wilbarger, Throckmorton, Grayson, Cooke, Archer, Tarrant, Kaufman, Collin, Lamar, Johnson, Henderson, Montague, Jack, Parker, Palo Pinto, Bosque, Comanche, Baylor, Stephens, Fannin, Wichita, Young, Harrison, Marion, Groesbeck, Rust, Shelby, Cherokee, Smith, Morris, Titus, Cass, Franklin, Red River, Delta, Hopkins, Angelina, San Augustine, Camp, Sumner, Fall, Trinity, Rains, Freestone, Bowie, Anderson, Van Zandt, Upshur, and Nacogdoches.
Farmers in these counties may use any of the following offices: Dallas Disaster Office, Room 8C38, 1100 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas 75242; Abilene Disaster Office, County Judge's Office, 2nd Floor, 800 Oak Street, Abilene, Texas 79602; Lubbock Disaster Office, 1205 Texas Avenue, Room 422B, Lubbock, Texas 79401; Marshall Disaster Office, U.S. Courthouse, 300 South Washington, Marshall, Texas 75670; Temple Disaster Office, 2 North 6th Street, Post Office Box 168, Temple, Texas 76781; Houston Disaster Office, One Allon Octor, Suite 705, 500 Dallas, Houston, Texas 77002.
